Why am I Passionate about this?

Hi, I'm Lauren Styles and I was created to preserve your Legacy.

This photo consists of some of my family members. My right hand is wrapped around my mother, while my left hand is scratching my sister, Crystal's head. Goofy I know, but there were many days that weren't so goofy. Two of my sisters, Crystal Nicole and Kaela Dawn are next to me. They were here then laughing, but today they are no longer with us. You see, they passed away too young.

Can I be transparent with you? There were many days and weeks that I never called my sisters to see how they were. I was busy. I scrolled through my phone and I couldn't even find many photos of my sisters. Kind of sad, right?

Crystal passed away in 2017. The next Christmas I was in the ER believing Kaela could be dying, and the following Christmas I got a phone call that my mother was in the hospital now too. When I got the phone call about my mom, I cried and pleaded with the Lord that He wouldn't take my mother from me now. I just sensed in my heart that I needed to produce this 'gift video' communicating to her how amazing and special she is. She had a hard life taking care of us 4 rebellious girls and I wanted the video to not just be a gift of love, but of healing over her life. I just sensed in my whole being that I needed to give this to her before she left me. Praise the Lord, she lived and I got to produce one for her, her own Legacy In Motion.

Sadly, Kaela passed away in 2021, but she passed away the day I was going to go to the Funeral Homes to pitch to them my idea of preserving our family's Legacies. You see, I believe, that God wanted me to produce Kaela Dawn's Legacy first. He communicates in her legacy video, so profoundly, that she is God's Gift. And so you see, you are too. You are a gift. And if I would have the privilege of showcasing your gift to the world, I would be more than honored. Not just to tell all the true and beautiful stories that are a part of your journey, but so we will never forget them. Maybe this will spark a fire to call more and listen to one another's stories, being transformed by them, learning and growing, becoming better for one another through knowing our stories.

It sounds wild, but I believe we will change the world by producing your Legacy in Motion. You're more than a photograph. You're a legacy. You're a movie.

Why do I believe this matters for you?

You know, I would love to say that I know your story, but I don't. This is just the beginning of Legacies in Motion. I already know that there are more stories that will blow my mind than I can possibly imagine. Good stories, bad stories are waiting to be told.

Now your story? Why your story? Honestly, I would love to know. I would love to know why your story should be a Legacy in Motion.

What story do you want to tell and for who? Is it a story of hope? Is it a story to pass down your family line? Is it to teach, empower, encourage? Is it to not forget where you were and where you are now? Is your story to honor someone you love? Is your story to help heal someone who is broken? Is your story for more than just you?

I need you to know that my heart is wide open, and these Legacies aren't categorized by a specific qualification. You are qualified. You have a story. And no matter if you believe it's worth producing or not, I believe with my whole heart that it is. I want to know it, and I want my neighbors to know it too.

Can I be a little more real with you? I wish my Dad had told us more stories. He didn't. Honestly, maybe if he did, my sisters would still be alive, living a good life. That's not to sell this or get what I want. It's just being honest. The more we communicate in an excellent way, the more our communities will be transformed for the better.

So if you are ready to have your story produced in an excellent manner so the world can be empowered, changed and become better for their neighbors, I am ready to tell it.

Sincerely Your Creative Video Storyteller,
